Tennis Announcement Is a Bit Premature

A phia yesterday to the effect that Wallace P. Johnson of that city had been chosen as the fourth man for the United States Davis cup team and that he had been notified officially to be prepared to leave for England with the rest of the team on May 29. It seemed rather strange that the news should come from Philadelphia instead of national tennis headquarters in this city and it was difficult to understand because the United States Lawn Tennis Association had announced only two days before that the fourth man was not to be selected until after a series of tryouts late next month, in which Wallace Johnson, Richard Harte of Boston and Charles S. Gar-land of Pittsburg were to be the par-

National headquarters was appealed to for a solution of the mystery and at first had no idea how the story possibly could have had any foundation at all. On second thought Paul Williams, the field secretary, emembered that Johnson as we'l as Harte and Garland, had been notified to have their passports ready for the trip in the event of being so-It is quite possible, Williams thought, that some friend of Johnson heard about the passoprt notice and jumped to a rather hasty con
